& Wife
Jane Johns(t)on (ca. 1793-aft. 10 June 1856)

FAMILY SUMMARY

Born: ca. 1786-87, South Carolina or Georgia<sup>2</sup>

Married: 13 May 1814, Marion Co., Miss., Jane Johns(t)on (b. ca. 1793; d. after 10 June 1856<sup>3</sup>)

Died: after 1870,<sup>4</sup> Wolf Creek, Hancock Co. (now Pearl River Co.), Miss.<sup>5</sup>

Parents: Isaac? Odom and Millie Breland, later wife of Mathew Cook<sup>6</sup>

Richard Odom, b. ca. 1797,<sup>8</sup> S.C., said to marry (1) Pike Co., Miss., [—?—] Merchant, daughter of John Merchant; and (2) Elizabeth, widow of James Purvis.<sup>9</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Some researchers identify him as William Eugene or Eli. However, no known document assigns him any middle name or initial. Each of his brothers also bore a single name, although some researchers give his brother Shadrack the middle name "English," based on a misreading of entries in his Psalm book (see n. 7). In the place and time of their births, middle names were exceedingly rare. Those that occurred were almost always part of a double-name that honored a Revolutionary hero (George Washington ...), a founding father (Benjamin Franklin ...), or a religious leader (John Wesley ...).

<sup>5</sup> Robert Lee Breland, "On Sacred Soil," The Baptist Record, undated clipping in unidentified file and collection, Mississippi Baptist Historical Archives, Mississippi College, Clinton; transcription provided by Dawn Driskell. Breland stated that his grandfather William Odom was buried in the family cemetery on Wolf Creek.

<sup>6</sup> Some researchers assert that Shadrack's father was the S.C. Revolutionary War soldier Shadrack Odom. That is manifestly an error. See the evidence laid out in Elizabeth Shown Mills, "Millie (Breland) Odom Cook's First Husband: A Preliminary Analysis," report dated 11 January 2005; posted 21 January 2012 by Marla Odom as "BEAUFORT-Millie Breland's Husband-2005 (2011)," at Odom DNA "C" Group-Duplin/Darlington/Beaufort/MiscTN, a by-invitation group (www.MyFamily.com/group/133314806/files/133330617).

<sup>7</sup> "Shadrack Odom Psalm Book," more specifically: The Psalms of David in Metre; Translated, and Diligently Compared with the Original Text and Former Translation; More Plain, Smooth, and Agreeable to the Text than any heretofore; Allowed by the Authority of the General Assembly of the Kirk of Scotland, and appointed to be sung in Congregations and Families (Edinburgh: Mars and Charles Kerr, 1791), data entered on random pages.

The earliest entry notes: "Jean Miller first Bible ... Jean Miller was born February 5th 1760." Subsequent entries suggest that the Psalms passed from Nathaniel and Jane (aka Jean) Johnston to their daughter Margaret Ann Johnston ("born October 16 1800") who married "Shadrach Odom" ("born December the 20th day 1792") a marriage occurring in Pike County on "December the 22 day 1822." A photocopy of the Psalm book pages was provided in December 2004 by descendant Dr. Charles Flanders (3401 Fawn Trace, Temple TX 75604) to E. S. Mills.

The Jean Miller inscription is in a different hand from all other entries; the others, including the names of Nathaniel and Jane Johnston, are in the same hand and ink, suggesting they were made at the same time—i.e., on or after the last entry dated 26 February 1844. It seems probable that the Johnston family into which Shadrach married was the one from which his brother William took a wife. The pages, which have been separated from the book and may not represent all of the entries, list only three children born to Nathaniel and Jane in 1800, 1802, and 1804; tax rolls and censuses suggest Nathaniel had other, older children, perhaps by an earlier wife.

<sup>8</sup> 1821 Tax Roll, Pike County, Mississippi, Richard Odom entry. This poll roll, which should include all men aged 21 or over by 1 January 1821, marks Richard's first appearance as a poll. The 1850 census entry for Richard overstates his age by about ten <sup>13</sup> Shadrack's birthdate is extrapolated from the 1839 and 1840 tax rolls of Newton, as subsequently detailed, herein, under those years. Shadrack was not of poll age (21) on 1 January 1839; he made his first appearance on the 1840 roll.

<sup>14</sup> Shadrack's marriage date is extrapolated from the documented birthdate of his first son, Samuel. For that birthdate, see "Mississippi Confederate Pension Applications, 1900–1974," database, FamilySearch (www.FamilySearch.org : 1 August 2013), "Oakes–Ormond," images 97–100, E. <sup>15</sup> Marriage year extrapolated from age of eldest child of second marriage, as shown on 1850 U.S. census, Newton Co., Miss., pop. sch., p. 184 (verso), dwell./fam. 427, Shadrack "Odham"; and 1860 U.S. census, Newton Co., Miss., pop. sch., Decatur p.o., p. 142, dwell. 951, fam. 961, "Fredrick [Shadrack] Odom." Some descendants have posted online trees that call him "Shadrack Frederick Odom." Like his father, Shadrack had no middle name. The erroneous spelling of his name on the 1860 census results from the fact that enumerators had to file three sets of returns, making copies from originals that had been carried from door-to-door across hundreds of miles, amid downpours and across swollen streams that too-often soaked the originals and caused ink to bleed. Many copying errors resulted. The copy that was microfilmed and now digitized is the copy sent to the Bureau of the Census in D.C., not the original which was to be filed locally.

<sup>16</sup> Esrom Odom (son of Robert Alexander; grandson of Shadrack and Elizabeth) to Elizabeth Shown Mills, 1972. Esrom, whose letter carries no return address, stated that his grandfather died during the Civil War. That is compatible with his absence from post-1865 records of Newton County.

<sup>22</sup> The date of birth is from Kelly Parks, “Descendants of Joseph Raborn/Rayburn,” MS (kellyparks99@yahoo.com : 19 August 2008), pp. 20–21, which states no source for the information. The place of birth suggested above is based on Manerva’s father appearance on the 1825 and 1827 tax rolls of Hinds County.

<sup>23</sup> “Elder O. F. Breland” (MS, n.d., Mississippi Baptist Historical Association, Clinton, Miss.), 2-page biography; transcription supplied by descendant Dawn Driskell. The biography states: “About the year 1845 he moved with others to Hancock, now Pearl River County. Here he was married to Miss Manerva Odom, daughter of William and Jane (Johnston) Odom, May 2, 1847; Eld. Thomas performing the ceremony. They remained here for one year or more where their first child, George W., was born, and then returned to Newton County near to Union, possibly in 1849. In a year or so this family crossed over into Neshoba County, living in the Sansing neighborhood, near where county Line Baptist Church now stands, for some years.”

<sup>27</sup> Age and marital data extrapolated from 1850 U.S. census, Hancock Co., Miss., Habolochitto Dist., stamped p. 73, dwell. 414, fam. 415. Age data confirmed by 1870 U.S. census, Hancock Co., Miss., Gainesville P.O., stamped p. 301, dwell. 749, fam. 913. At Find A Grave (www.findagrave.com), memorial 19791766, citing Frye Cemetery, Pearl River Co., Miss., “Paula” provides an image of Samuel’s Civil War veteran marker and adds: “Buried near Kenyon N. Odom. Co. B & D 17 Miss Ca.” Donna Burge Adams, My Burge and Hughes Family Record (No Place: Privately Printed, no date), 29, identifies Paris (source not cited) as the daughter of Freeman Jones and wife Virginia Hendon and states that Samuel had a brother-in-law (presumably husband of a sister of Paris) named Alexander Spiers. The 1850 census does place Freeman Jones and family next door to the young Samuel and Christian; the 1870 census shows that Samuel and Christian named a son Freeman.

<sup>28</sup> James H.’s birth date is extrapolated from several records. Robert Lee Breland, “On Sacred Soil,” The Baptist Record, an undated newspaper article transcribed by Dawn Driskell, discusses a 2 November celebration of James H. Odom’s 82nd birthday. The author states that his own parents married near James H.’s house “seventy-four years ago,” on 2 May 1847. Thus, the newspaper clipping might be dated at November 1921, and James H.’s birth might be calculated as 2 November 1829. However, the census records consistently make him 10 years younger—i.e., born 1839. See 1850 U.S. census, Harrison Co., Miss., pop. sch., Habolochitto Dist., stamped p. 74, dwell. 429, fam. 440; and 1870 U.S. census, Hancock Co., Miss., Gainesville P. O., p. 310 (stamped), p. 101 (penned), dwell. 930, fam. 1102.

<sup>29</sup> Hancock Co., Miss., Marriage Book 1 (1853–1865): 108; Circuit Clerk’s Office, Bay St. Louis. License and bond dated 7 July 1856, with Jeremiah Lodner [Ladner], bondsman. Marriage performed by Wm. H. Varnado. The middle name shown above for Ally, “Jones,” does not appear in the marriage record. It is attributed to her by Kelly Parks, “Descendants of Joseph Raborn/Rayburn,” MS (kellyparks99@yahoo.com : 19 August 2008), 20–21, source of name uncited.

Abraham, Absalom, and Hillary Breland, and others. The party was believed to total about 60 members. Two children of William gave the story of this trip to Robert Lee Breland who wrote it down in 1928.

“On the journey from S.C. to southwestern MS, the men and older boys walked while the women and children rode horseback. What household goods they brought had to be carried on horseback as well. Only a little food was brought along, and so the party had to hunt for game along the route. They obtained bread from the Indians.

“The trip took some 60 days. Sometimes the group took a day off to rest and wash their clothes. The party usually made about 20–30 miles progress per day. They tried to camp near a spring or creek each night, and the men would take turns standing guard.

“On reaching the Choctaw nation the group had to obtain a pass from the chief, so several young men were sent ahead to tell him the rest of the travelers were approaching. The chief ordered a feast to be prepared.

“When the rest of the party arrived, they were tired and hungry. They evidently ate too freely because they all became acutely ill. The chief, who was also a medicine man, gave them a tea made from dried beef which quickly cured most of them, but one or two babies died.

“They rested with the Indians for several days before continuing on. By this time the Indian chief had expressed an interest in having any of the travelers for a son-in-law. The chief had married a French woman, and had a number of half-French, half-Indian daughters. He offered a half-bushel of silver dollars to any of the young white men who would marry one of his daughters.

“None of the young men accepted the offer, though, and the group went on. With the pass the chief had given them, they were well-received by the Choctaws they encountered along the way.

“The party arrived in Pike County, found other white settlers there, and set out to build homes and furniture before winter came. It seems that after reaching Mississippi the Odom-Breland party followed this route:

Pike County—remaining there 10–15 years;

Copiah County—staying there a few years;

Hinds County—present there in 1828 and probably a few years longer;

Madison County—remaining there until ca 1838;

Newton County—a newly settled area; they moved near the Chunky River in the neighborhood of Mt. Zion Methodist Church; by this time many of the older ones had died and were buried at various sites along the route;

Hancock County (now Pearl River County)—moving there about 1845

“William Odom was among the group moving to Hancock County, but his mother had probably died before this.”<sup>33</sup>

This account has various problems that will be corrected in subsequent notes; it is quoted here, as is. The stated areas of settlement do not apply to all members of the family, including William.

Assistant R. O. C.”

COMMENT:

No “return” was filed by a minister or justice of the peace to attest that he had officiated at the marriage. The actual marriage date is thus unknown.

No known document identifies Jane Johnson’s parentage. William’s brother Shadrack would later marry one Margaret Ann Johnston, daughter of Nathaniel Johnston and his wife Jane Miller.<sup>37</sup> For brothers in one family to marry sisters in another was a common marital pattern of the era—as would happen in the next generation when three of William and Jane’s children married Cooksey siblings.

The only other Johns(t)on marriage found contemporaneously in this marriage register (p. 109) was that of John Johnson and Dicey Ryals, daughter of Charles Ryals, on 18 November 1815.

No other record has been found for William and Jane in Marion County. Pike was created from Marion a few months later and the Odom-Johns(t)on family cluster was cut away into the new county of Pike.

<sup>37</sup> Shadrack Odom Psalm Book. One descendant, whose compilation cites no sources, asserts: “William’s wife Jane was born ca. 1793-4 in SC and may have been the daughter of Daniel Johnson (born 1770 SC, he lived in Marion Co., MS, 1850.” See Donna Burge Adams, My Burge and Hughes Family Record (No Place: Privately Printed, no date), 33. I have found no evidence to connect William or Jane Odom to this Daniel Johnson, who settled in Marion County long after William and Jane left that part of Mississippi.

COMMENT:

William’s brother Richard also served, as did various Brelands, Cooks, and Thornhills.

The Mississippi forces were called up to assist in Andrew Jackson’s defense against the British invasion of the Gulf. The British forces were defeated at the Battle of New Orleans, 8 January 1815. The news of that defeat apparently had not reached Marion County before William’s enlistment two days later. No actual service is known for his company.

Petition to Congress.<sup>40</sup>

By inhabitants of Marion and Lawrence Counties ... William Odom.

COMMENT:

My photocopy has been lost. I have only this note. Donna Burge Adams adds the following:

“William was a signee to a petition dated 19 Jan 1815, Camp Pearl River, by inhabitants of Marion and Lawrence Counties who were requesting extensions on their land [payments]. They pointed out that the war with England and the war with the Creek Indians had forced the men to leave their homes. Many men had died in battles while others had died from exposure or illness while in service.”<sup>41</sup>

TO DO:

Obtain a full copy of the petition. Study it for additional clues and Johns(t)on information.

Orr, William	0 acres		1 white poll	.83

COMMENT:

The arrangement of names, which places the Odom brothers immediately on both sides of another O-surnamed man on Magee Creek, implies that Magee Creek was the Odom neighborhood, as well. The semi-alphabetization of the tax roll separates their names greatly from their Breland, Cook, and Thornhill kinsmen, but a local history tells us the following:

<sup>43</sup> Pike Co., Miss., 1817 Tax Roll, microfilm roll 4325, Record Group 29, Auditor of Public Accounts; Department of Archives and History, Jackson, Miss.

<sup>44</sup> Birth year is extrapolated from the 1839 and 1840 tax rolls of Newton. Shadrack was not of poll age (21) by 1 January 1839; he made his first appearance on the 1840 roll compiled as of 1 January 1840. Shadrack’s birthplace is extrapolated from the fact that his father William appears on the Pike County tax rolls from 1818 through 1824.

<sup>45</sup> Pike Co., Miss., 1818 Tax Roll, microfilm roll 4325, Record Group 29, Auditor of Public Accounts; Department of Archives and History, Jackson, Miss.

“Tylerstown has always been considered a part of Magees Creek, though the village as now located is on Dry Creek, which empties into Magees Creek a short distance below. Its first settlement dates back to the emigration of the Magees and Thornhills. William Thornhill and his wife, Liddy Breland, came from South Carolina and settled here. They had a son, Elisha, who was born in South Carolina in 1799. His wife was Mary Carr. Their children were William B., Hillary B., Elizabeth, Isham, John M., Brian, Mary Ann, James W., Millie Ann, and Susan Ann.”<sup>46</sup>

COMMENT:

Again, the arrangement of names on the roll implies that William was not living with his brothers Shadrack and Richard. Shadrack had not yet married. No record has been found to indicate whether Richard was or was not married at this time. Given that this is Richard’s first taxation as a poll, we might deduce that he was born about 1797 and had turned 21 in 1818.

Bondsman.

Leroy P. Griggs & Nancy Varnell. 11 September 1830. Wm. Odom, Bondsman.<sup>73</sup>

COMMENT:

As a rule, men of this era signed bonds only for people who were extremely close to them. If a bondsman failed to meet the terms of the bond, the surety was liable for the full cost of the bond, plus fines or court costs. Even their homes could be seized to pay the debt. It was not an obligation most men took on lightly. No connection is known for William to either the bride or groom. The 1830 Madison County Tax Roll contains no entries for either Griggs or Varnell.

This volume also contains entry for an Edmond, Emmanuel, and John Odom in the 1837–39 period. John married Sarah Ann Grafton (F:107). No connection has been found to our branch of the Odoms.

TO DO

Griggs and the Varnells should be studied for possible kinship to either William or his wife Jane Johns(t)on. Griggs has not been found on the 1830 census.

COMMENT

The typical pattern for yeoman families was to settle a tract of unoccupied land and make a small clearing for home, garden, and the start of a cash crop. After one to three years of testing the productivity of the soil, they applied for the land at the federal land office that served their district. William appears to have followed this pattern. By the time the patent was issued in 1833, however, he had decided not to stay.

Mississippi's legislature created Newton on this date from the southern half of Neshoba County. A county seat named Decatur was created, reportedly on land donated by a Cooksey-Odom neighbor, Isham Hollingsworth. Building began on the town in late 1836. The courthouse itself would have been created late in 1836 and record-keeping would not have begun until early 1837.<sup>78</sup> leaving unanswered the question of what time of the year the tax data applies. A supplemental volume, G. R. and J. S. Fall, Notes to the Revised Statutes of Mississippi (Jackson: G. R. and J. S. Fall, 1836), contains nothing more on the tax law.

The 1823 compilation of statutes, which was the basis of the 1836 revision, stipulated that the assessor was to acquire between 1 March and 1 June of each year, a list of taxable property from each individual who held taxable property on 1 January of that year. See The Revised Code of the Laws of Mississippi, in Which Are Comprised All Such Acts of the General Assembly, of a Public Nature, as Were in Force at the End of the Year 1823 (Jackson: F. Baker, 1824), 287–88. From this, we may deduce that William was in Neshoba by 1 January 1834.

<sup>78</sup> Alfred John Brown, History of Newton County, Mississippi, from 1836 to 1894 (Jackson, Miss.: Clarion-Ledger, 1894), 1, 37–38, 45–46.

The list carries no title, header, or date. The state archives has labeled it 1838.

<sup>80</sup> The birth date is extrapolated from several sources. The undated clipping of Robert Lee Breland's newspaper account, "On Sacred Soil," reports the celebration of James H.'s 82nd birthday on 2 November. The author states that his own parents married near James H.'s house "seventy-four years ago," on 2 May 1847. Thus, the newspaper clipping might be dated at November 1921, and James H.'s birth might be calculated as 2 November 1829. However, the census records consistently make him 10 years younger—i.e., born 1839. See, for example, 1850 U.S. census, Harrison Co., Miss., pop. sch., Habolochitto Dist., stamped p. 74, dwell. 429, fam. 440; and 1870 U.S. census, Hancock Co., Miss., Gainesville P.O., p. 310 (stamped), p. 101 (penned), dwell. 930, fam. 1102.

Curiously, this roll—which carries no certification date—is only about half the size of the 1838 roll. No county had been cut from Newton in the meanwhile. Either the county was sub-divided into two tax divisions and one list is lost or else the county lost an extraordinarily large number of inhabitants during 1838. A comparison of the names on the 1839 list with those of 1838 shows that most names are duplicated, suggesting that the "1838" list, which carries no header, was not a missing part of the 1839 list.

Land acquisition.

William received patents to two tracts of federal land:<sup>84</sup>

- SW $\frac{1}{2}$  NW $\frac{1}{4}$  Section 20, Township 8N, Range 12E, Choctaw Meridian, 40 acres
- E $\frac{1}{2}$  NE $\frac{1}{4}$  Section 19, Township 8N, Range 12E, Choctaw Meridian, 79.93 acres

COMMENT:

Typically, one or more years would have passed since William had “entered” this land at the Columbus land office, paying in cash the mandated $1.25 per acre for government land. The patents state that he was, at the time he purchased the land, a resident of Neshoba County.

William’s land lay roughly 5 miles NW of the Newton County land (sect. 11, T7N R12E) entered by Nathaniel Bailey Johnston, who appears in the Shadrack Odum Psalm Book as a brother of Shadrack’s wife Margaret Ann (Johnston) Odom; both were children of Nathaniel Johnston and Jane Miller.

This is William Odom's last appearance in the county. Before 1850 he relocated his family on the Gulf Coast, county of Hancock (modern Pearl River Co.), amid Breland relatives. No known record survives in this "burned county" for the disposition of his Newton County land. He does not appear to have sold it to Shadrack. By the date of the 1850 census, Shadrack did own land, but the 1857 land tax roll places him in ownership of a different (though nearby) tract: W½ SE¼ S29 T8 R12.

COMMENT:

As a militiaman called up for service in the War of 1812, William was eligible for bounty land under the Acts of 1850 and 1853. He applied in both cases, received a warrant that guaranteed him acreage of his choosing from unoccupied public land, and then transferred the warrant to someone else before the patent was issued. Above, he sold the land to a speculator. The second tract, below, he would give or sell to a son-in-law.

TO DO

Order both bounty-land applications from the National Archives.

Letter of Manerva (Odom) Breland<sup>95</sup>

“Dear Father & Mother,

It is with pleasure I avail myself of this privilege to write you a few lines informing you that we are in moderate health through the mercy of an ever gracious providence, for which I feel very thankful to the great ‘giver of every good and perfect gift,’ & I hope this will find you all well.

“We have great reason, and feel under numerous obligations to thank God for many fold [manifold] favors and blessings bestowed upon us unworthy creatures, for in the midst of deserved wrath he has remembered us in mercy, while many of our fellow mortals have been called from time to Eternity, we are still the spared monuments of his amazing love and goodness. There has been abundance of sickness here this spring, and a great many deaths. Some die in two or three days after taken, others live a week, some longer. Some were perfectly well and in one hour were out of their senses. It was the severest disease that ever I was acquainted with. The doctors had various names for it. Some call it malignant or spotted scarlet fever. Others call it pneumonia. I suppose it somewhat resembled the cold plague, I could tell you of a great many that have died in this county. I will mention some that you know. Old Mrs. Robertson wife of Lodrick Robertson, Old Mrs. Parker sister to Burrel Raburn, Abram Jones and his daughter Margaret Ann wife of John B. Johnson, Hannah Easters daughter of John Woodward, Sarah Ann Jones daughter of Lodrick Robertson, Benjamin Robertson, Noah Parks son of old John Parks, Thomas Sessums’ daughter Elizabeth, little James Boyd son of James Boyd. I could tell of several others but you would not know them. We have another daughter born April 29th 1856. Call her name Nancy Elizabeth.

“The[re] has been large freshets in Chunky this spring, one the first day of March, the largest I have ever known since I have been on Chunky, the other the first day of May, not so large. People has about finished cutting their wheat. There is a good deal of wheat made here this year though the rest has injured some.

“The connection are all well so far as I know at this time. John & Evaline has been sick this spring with chills and fever. Some of Samuel Cooksey’s children have been sick this spring with pneumonia. Shad’s Rhoda has been sick with the same complaint, but they have all recovered. We had the severest winter we ever had in this county. It is supposed that is the cause of so much sickness. I suppose there has been more sickness in this county since the middle of February last than there has been here in five years before.

“I must come to a close. Give my best respects to all inquiring friends. Write when you receive this [and] let us know how you are doing. When this you see, remember me. Also pray for us.
